

Vegetarian France Updates

France now uses the euro instead of the Franc. 1 euro is about 7 Francs or US$1.

PARIS

NEW PARIS 3rd, Le Potager du Marais 22 Rue Rambuteau, 3rd arrondissement. Open every day noon until midnight (Sun 1pm till midnight), last orders 10.30pm. Metro: Rambuteau (line 11), Hotel de Ville (1 and 11) Tel: 01-42 74 24 66. Finally Paris has a vegetarian restaurant in the 3rd arrondissement, next to the Pompidou Centre. And this one has a separate vegan page in its menu. Dishes from 7 to 12.50 euros or a set menu for 15 euros. Smoking allowed. There is always at least one vegan soup. However, I decided on a cold starter, seaweed pate with salad and plenty of wholemeal bread, followed by a vegetable casserole with tofu and potatoes which was huge and very filling. With freshly-extracted carrot, celery and beetroot juice and fruit compote this made a very satisfying and warming lunch and came to just over 15 euros, service included. By 2pm the place was full with a seeming mix of tourists and locals. (Peter Freeman, Nov 2004)

NEW PARIS 19th, Le Marchand de Soupes, 70 rue Rebeval, 75019 Paris. Tel: 01-42 41 79 64. Metro: Pyrenees. We hear this is a new organic vegetarian restaurant.

Country Life, La Truffe and Piccolo Teatro in Paris have closed.

MAOZ new falafel bar at 8 rue Xavier Privas, 6th arrondissement. Metro: St Michel. Eat for 3.7 to 5.2 euros. Open: 11.30-midnight. Tel: 01-43 26 36 00. No smoking.

Po Mana vegetarian restaurant, 39 rue des Vinaigriers, 10th arrondissement. Metro: Gare de l'Est (near Eurostar). Open every day 12.30-14.30, 19.30-22.30. Tel: 01-40 37 19 19. Fixed menu 17-19 euros with dishes that change daily according to season. The food is delicate and delicious. You receive a large bowl of rice, salad, soup, vegetables, bread, chutney and dessert. The room is warm and welcoming. Note for vegans: some dishes are dairy based. 12 seats. No smoking.

Tien Hiang restaurant, 20 rue Nationale, 13th arrondissement (Chinatown). Metro: Porte d'Ivry. Tel: 01 45 82 99 54. Open: Wed-Mon 10.30-23.00, Sat 11.30-23.00, closed Tue. Meals 6 to 7.5 euros. No smoking.

NEW Les Battees Guesthouse, Burgundy (71 Saone et Loire), opening Easter 2004, vegetarian and vegan guesthouse. Formerly a wine-grower's mansion in its own wooded park, on a rise overlooking the canal port of St Leger-sur-Dheune. Situated in beautiful countryside on the main route to the tourist centre of Autun, within easy reach of Beaune, the wine capital of Burgundy. Dating from the 19th Century, the house retains many original features, such as moulded plasterwork on the ceilings, marble fireplaces, and terracotta floor tiles. All rooms have en suite facilities. The house also possesses its own extensive orchard, enabling them to offer homemade jams and fruit-based desserts such as plums in brandy to enjoy with breakfast and the Table d'Hote on an elegant terrace. They will cater for children of all ages, but cannot accommodate pets. For further details phone Val Patchett on +33 (0)3 85 45 47 09. www.lesbattees.com Email: lesbatees@wanadoo.fr
