

Da Bod Cafe & B&B

Vegetarian and vegan café by day and restaurant in the evening, the only veggie place in Shetland. Open every summer to raise funds for the adjacent wildlife sanctuary in a stunning location. Down on the seafront at Hillswick.

Food is by donation - pay what you can, and all the proceeds go to help upkeep of the sanctuary.

Wholefood and organic as much as possible, they have snacks and light eats during the day such as soup, filled pitta breads, broccoli and cauliflower bake and pizzas (with vegan option).

Evening meals include summer vegetable and cashew nut loaf, mushroom stroganoff and provencal vegetable plait.

For dessert there is a vegan chocolate cake with hot chocolate sauce and apple and strawberry crumble.

The menu changes as they like to experiment. They can always cater for special diets.

They run various children's projects, raising awareness and educating children on animal and environmental issues and hold storytelling and musical evenings.

Bring your own bottle.

Also an internet cafe by donation.

The name means the trading post in Norse.

They now have a room available for B&B, with a deluxe king size sofa bed that pulls out and two sofa chairs, ideal for a family. £50 for the room or £30 for two people. You have your own breakfast bar and toaster in the room, or come to the cafe at 11am for a full breakfast. Dogs welcome.
